Research Workgroup Conference Call/Meeting

Members Present: Diane Verrochi, Nicole Makris, Madelyne Greene, Mickey Eliason, Michael Johnson, Ralph Klotzbaugh

This conference call was to follow-up on the discussion items from the 2014 Nursing Summit meeting. During the 2014 Nursing Summit meeting, the workgroup primarily focused their discussions around collaborative work and championing a special editorial journal edition.

Meeting Start Time: 6:05 PM EST

Topic	Discussion	Action
Ongoing projects and requests for collaborations	Madelyne is planning a study about LGBTQ nurses and is looking for funding and resources. Other members gave her ideas. Ralph has an ongoing study that aims to understand the satisfaction of inpatient experiences among LGBTQ people. He is looking for websites to advertise the study. Other members gave ideas. Ralph discussed a research study he read about rape incidents on college campuses. He wants to develop a similar study and include questions about sexual orientation and gender identity. He is seeking collaborators to work with him.	Michael will email the entire research workgroup instructing them how to join the LGBTQ Scholars Group.
Special Editorial Journal Edition	The workgroup agreed to pursue creating a special journal edition that focuses on queer methodologies in nursing research. The workgroup discussed the possible options to accomplish this. The workgroup members want to be involved in the entire editorial process, including being guest editors and reviewing articles.	Mickey will speak to Peggy Chinn about creating this special edition in Advances in Nursing Science . Mickey will email the group after her discussion with Peggy.
Research workgroup leadership	Michael, the current research workgroup leader, asked if other members would be interested in sharing the responsibilities of leading the group. Mickey agreed to respond to any emails that come through the GLMA Nursing research workgroup website. Madelyne and Michael agreed to alternate taking minutes during the conference call meetings.	Michael will inform Peggy Chinn about the changes.
Next conference call		Michael will schedule another conference call after hearing back from Mickey about the special editorial journal edition.

Meeting End Time: 6:50 PM EST
